Standardized Listing of SCI Codewords/Caveats and Related Markings. During the 10 August 1982 meeting, [] noted that the Intelligence Community has adopted several different styles of abbreviations for SCI codewords/caveats and related markings. Some were often confusing to the reader and [] asked that the membership consider whether it would be advantageous for the Subcommittee to compile a standard listing of SCI abbreviations for forwarding to the SECOM with a recommendation that it be considered for adoption by the Intelligence Community.
